EDUCATION

PhD student in Assyriology, Yale University 2024 – Present

I am currently pursuing a PhD in Assyriology at the Department of Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations, Yale University.

B.A. in Economics & History, Peking University 2024

I graduated from Peking University in 2024 with dual bachelor's degrees in Economics and History. I studied at the School of Economics from Sep 2020 to Aug 2021, and at the National School of Development from Sep 2021 to Jul 2024. My thesis, supervised by Prof. Dr. Yiling Zhao at the Department of Economic History, examines the impacts of the boll weevil invasion on agriculture and higher education in the U.S. South from 1892 to 1922.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant May 2023 – Feb 2024

I collaborated with Prof. Dr. Yiling Zhao (Peking University) on a project investigating historical conflicts between Native Americans and European Americans in 19th-century U.S.

Research Under Faculty Guidance Jun 2023 – Oct 2023

I conducted research on the economy of the Hittite Kingdom based on Hittite Laws under the guidance of Prof. Dr. Zheng Li (Peking University) and completed a research article titled "Hittite Laws and Economic Realities: Exploring the Macroeconomic Landscape."

Research Assistant Oct 2021 – Aug 2022

I assisted Prof. Dr. Sophie Calder-Wang (University of Pennsylvania) and Dr. Jinlin Li (Harvard University) in studying government venture capital in China.

Research Assistant Jul 2021 – Dec 2021

I supported Dr. Jinlin Li in researching venture capital and market performance in China.
